

Brendan

Brendan aged 9 loves being outdoors. He has a lot of energy and really enjoys being around animals, especially taking the dogs for a walk!

He can be very chatty and he has a very good imagination. He enjoys making up stories and giving his characters super powers.

Brendan has low self-esteem and lacks confidence when faced with new activities. He can have intensive outbursts of behaviour that he sometimes struggles to control. However, these episodes are happening less than they used to and he is learning that this is not correct behaviour and will apologise afterwards.

Brendan needs a lot of love and support, in a safe environment where there are consistent boundaries.

He would benefit from living with a family where there are two carers. These carers will be experienced and work together as a team to provide Brendan with a stable, secure and nurturing home into adulthood and beyond.

He would benefit from being with an energetic couple who enjoy being outdoors and who wish to include him in their own family and help to build up his life story. They would also need to promote contact with his siblings to help him maintain his identity.
